Application

The examination committee allocates every student to a chair that will supervise his/her bachelor's thesis. In order for the examination committee to be able to allocate all students, they have to apply online. Please see the information of the examination board on ILIAS for the current schedule and procedure for your assignment to a chair for your bachelor's thesis.

If the examination committee allocated you to our chair, we will provide you with a list of the bachelor's thesis topics available at our chair. Then you will be asked to submit a list ranking the topics in accordance with your preferences. Subsequently our team will allocate you to a topic taking your preferences into account as possible.

Examples of topics

- The role of individual and team resilience for internal corporate venturing success – a review and research agenda
- Explaining the emergence of workforce downsizing activity – an institutional theory approach

- Corporate size effects in M&A - a review
- Innovation performance of small vs. large firms - a review
- The impact of the financial crisis on the competitive behavior of financial service providers
- The significance of corporate culture for successful strategy implementation
- Board composition: The presence and implications of politicians' board membership in publicly, listed German companies
