

MAN 691 Selected Topics in Organizational Behavior

Instructor	Prof. Karin Hoisl
ECTS	4
Hours/week	2 + self-study
Aim of the module	Organizational behaviour (OB) is defined as the systematic study and application of knowledge about how individuals and groups act within the organizations where they work. The lecture presents essential theories and concepts explaining how individual and group behavior shape the internal dynamics of organizations. Current and real-life case studies are used to apply the theories and concepts to practice. The course deals with factors that facilitate or hinder effective behavior. Topics include communication, motivation, individual skills and abilities, conflicts, group dynamics, leadership, power, organizational culture and organizational change.
