

MAN 692 Organisationstheorie

Instructor	Karin Hoisl
Course Coordinator	Leo Schmallenbach
ECTS	6
Hours/week	4 + self-study
Aim of the module	The study of relationships of organizations with their external environment, and the behavior of individuals within the organization is used to systematically analyze how organizations operate and can best be managed. For instance, it suggests ways to achieve and retain competitive advantage and to anticipate or even initiate change. This course offers a broad introduction to organization theory. It starts with classical organization theories and then moves on to cover a wide variety of perspectives like New Institutional Economics, Resource Based View of the Firm, Organizational Learning or Networks.
Dates	Exact dates to be determined Lecture: Wednesday, 12:00-13:30
Prerequisite	---
Registration	No
Form of assessment	Written exam (60 Min.)
Semester	HWS
Language	German