Research Seminar (Professors Homburg, Stahl, Kuester, Kraus)

This syllabus provides general information on how to apply for participation in the research seminar in the Area Marketing & Sales. The four different chairs of the Area Marketing & Sales have a slightly different set-up when it comes to organizing the marketing seminar. Once allocated to one of the chairs, please visit the website of your supervising chair to find out about dates, workshops, and other chair-specific information.

Objectives of the Marketing Seminar

This research seminar aims at introducing master level students to academic work related to the research of contemporary challenges in marketing management and marketing research. The seminar is geared towards students who have shown high commitment in their course of study and who intend to write their master thesis in marketing. Participation in the seminar will enable students to independently explore a research topic by reviewing and discussing both theoretical foundations and empirical studies in a written paper. We will also introduce students to literature research techniques. Students will learn how to organize and structure their research and manage this project over a given period of time. Furthermore, students will learn presentation techniques and present their findings to the class.

The seminar paper can be written either in English or in German, with some exceptions which are clearly indicated. Students who write their seminar paper in English can receive English ECTS.

Course Registration & Organization

Students must formally apply for the research seminar in the Area Marketing & Sales between February 3 and February 6, 2025. Students must complete the application form linked on the chair`s websites. In addition, students must submit their transcript of records (grades of all graduate courses taken so far, including GPAs) via email to marketingseminar@uni-mannheim.de. Applications are considered complete only when both the application form and transcript of records have been submitted. Incomplete and late applications will not be accepted. For details regarding the application process, please consider the Application Process Description sheet on the chairs` websites.

We will inform students about their admission to the seminar and their assigned chair by February 13, 2025. Students must confirm their participation in the seminar by February 14, 2025, by replying to the email containing their chair allocation and explicitly stating that they accept the spot.

Course Requirements

Meetings & Workshops

- Students admitted to the seminar will take part in a kick-off meeting organized by the chair supervising their seminar paper. The date when individual chairs will announce date, time, and location of the kick-off together with the student allocation to the chairs will be announced soon. During the kick-off session, we brief students about the course and academic work in general and we assign the topics. Students are advised to familiarize themselves with the centralized guidelines for seminar theses prior to the first session so that remaining questions can be addressed during this initial meeting.
- Some of the chairs organize additional literature research workshops and/or presentation technique workshops. Participation in these workshops is mandatory, and details will be communicated by the individual chair after students have been assigned to their chair.

Seminar Paper

- Please check the chair-specific syllabus for detailed information on the guidelines for written assignments.
- One hard copy (spiral binding) of the seminar paper is to be submitted to the secretary's office of the assigned chair during respective office hours. A digital version in doc(x) format of the seminar paper is to be submitted by email to the secretary's email address. The deadline for both submissions differs slightly across chairs and is announced on their individual websites and during the kick-off sessions.
- The seminar paper will account for 70% of the overall grade.

In-Class Presentation

- Students will present the results of their research in class. The chairs schedule a short PowerPoint presentation of 10 to 20 minutes per student, which is followed by a question-and-answer session of 10-15 minutes per student.
- Scheduled presentation times and dates differ slightly across chairs and are communicated via the chairs' individual websites.
- Finalized slide material in PowerPoint format must be sent to the respective course administrator by the date announced on the chair's website.
- The presentation will account for 30% of the overall grade.

Class Participation

Participation in all sessions is mandatory. If students are unable to attend a session, they must inform the course administrator of their absence beforehand. We expect all students to actively participate in the question-and-answer sessions.
