Overall satisfaction

What did you especially like about the course?

- Good literature overview in a concise way
- I was impressed with how fast and smooth the transition to online learning has been!
- Teaching style of lecturer
- The lecturer speaks clearly and understandably.
- The wide range of topics covered, the logical way the materials are organized, the intuitive manner the theories are taught.
- Very well structured, the lecturer was always very clear in explaining things. Overall a very well-rounded concept. Very quick response to the Corona situation.
- highly motivated lecturer.

Do you have any recommendations how to improve the course? If so, which ones?

- Be more disciplined with time management.
- I think the course would benefit from allowing for more time in particular for the student presentations. I often had the feeling that due to time constraints there was not enough room for thinking in depth about certain contents and debating about them. Students could be asked to provide questions for discussion at the end of the presentation.
- In my point of view, the difficulty of the papers that we needed to present had a large variance and some needed to go through complicated methods while others only needed to present summary statistics...
- Overall this course is almost perfect for me. One thing to nitpick would be the way the lecturer interacts with the students. Given the theoretic nature of the content taught in this course, it would be nice to have some questions to ponder to assist a better understanding of the materials, and to keep students focused.
